

Mr Sanjay Dhotre

An engineer by training, a practicing agriculturist and industrialist Mr Sanjay Dhotre has remained active in social and political life for last four decades. He has been public representative making his mark at all the important positions held in fields ranging from academics to agriculture to new age technology. He has keen interest to bring changes in the life of a common man by transforming agriculture in every possible way.